POLO CHALLENGE TO BE ACTED ON TO-DAY

Formal Request for Match Is Received and No Time Will Be Lost.

HERBERT CALLS MEETING

Executive Committee Expected to Accept Quickly-Line on Makeup of Defenders.

England's challenge for the international polo cup was received by Secretary William A. Hazard of the Polo Association yesterday. The challenge was turned Chairman H. L. Herbert, who in mediately began to make plans for its consideration. The challenge:

Hurlingham Club, Fulham, S. W. DEAR SIR: I am directed by the committee of the Hurlingham Club to send a formal challenge to the American Polo Association to compete for the International polo cup in 1914 in the usual series of matches and under the conditions set forth in the deed of gift relatives therete.

If convenient to the Polo Association of America it would suit best to play the first match not later than June 1 to enable the English players to return to England in time to compete in the champion cup matches, which have been fixed to commence on Monday, June 15, the final to be played on Saturaly June 20. Yours faithfully, F. EGERTON GREEN, Major, Manager. The Secretary, American Polo Association.

As early as last Monday it became known through cable advices that the inglishmen would make another attempt to recover the cup and that a challenge was on its way. Chairman Herbert, how-ever, was scarcely prepared to receive it o soon, as in previous years the Polo association officers have been notified by able when the important document was despatched.

The wording of the letter sent by the manager of the Hurlingham Club leaves little room for disagreement on the question of dates. The invaders suggest Connecticut and back yesterday, was at-

Under this arrangement Larry Waterbury is the only man who will have to learn new tricks, and he is such an accomplished player that polo experts consider he is sure to make a good No. 3 as well as an efficient captain. THAT trying to help a friend ou of a scrape is dangerous was proved at the Board of Review meeting yesterday. J. L. Powers was expelled a year ago for racing Com, a 2:1314 performer, under the name of Joe A. and in a slower class. Sworn statements were presented by J. Agel that he owned the horse and by J. P. Durham that he drove the ringer at Stourbridge. At the time Powers tried to save his friends by saying he had left the breeding of the horse at home. The new testimony failed to get Powers's expulsion removed and resulted in Secretary Gocher being instructed to bring c arges against Agel and Durham.

question of dates. The invaders suggest that the first match shall be played not latter than June 1. A similar suggestion was made last year, but the Englishmen finally accepted dates beginning with June 10. They have additional reasons for requiring an earlier fixture this season, as the British championship, in which they desire to play on their return, begins on June 15, or more than a week earlier than last season.

Otherwise the conditions of the deed of gift have been entirely satisfactory. In fact no international contest has been carried out with less bickering over desired to the day's route. probable makeup of the English team was in regard to W. S. Buckmaster, who has been mentioned as one of the men likely to come across. His name was not mentioned in the list of players who will go to Madrid to practice and the reason is that he probably is not in condition. A visitor from England, while talking over the situation, volunteered the information that Buckmaster's arm bothers him continually and consequently he is not believed to be a factor in the coming matches. Capt. Ritson, the best of the players who came here last summer, also is in poor health, but is not thought to be out of the team entirely.

New Haven Club Signs Them for Twenty Round Battle on December 29.

Murphy.

Jess Willard, who outpointed Carl Morris in a burlesque bout in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, signed articles yesterday to box twenty rounds with George Rodel, the Boer heavyweight, in New Haven on December 29. Willard, in order to have plenty of time to prepare for this mill, has induced the Queensberry A. C. of Buffalo to stage his combat with One Round Davis on December 12, instead of four days later.

Rodel had the better of a ten round battle with Willard in Milwaukee three weeks ago and was at the ringside Wednesday night with a challenge to the winner. His manager, James Johnston. promptly hunted up Tom Jones, Willard's manager, after the bout and offered to make another match. As Willard has scored for his poor showing with both Rodel and Morris, he is anxious to meet the Boer again. As the Garden A. C. did not care for the Willard-Rodel affair, the New Haven club secured it. After this event Willard will go to California to get a bout with the winner of the Arthur Pelkey-Gunboat Smith affair, to decided in San Francisco on

Bailey of Pleasanton, Cal., applied for the remission of the fine of $250 inflicted on Driver Frank Childs for laying up two heats by the Niagara Racing Association. Bailey paid the fine under protest. His contention was that Childs after being warned by the judges for laying up went on and won the race. The board held that he should have done his best without being warned and declined to remit the being warned and declined to remit the

H. A. Brahm of Baltimore having re-signed as a member of the central dis-trict board Carlos De Garmendia of Tuscarora, Md. was elected to fill the va-cancy. In framing the new rules for the consideration of the joint rules committee the board of review asks that they be looked over by the horsemen and be looked over by the horsemen and trotting associations and that any criti-cisms or suggestions be sent to the board and to the joint committee.
